

Monsters

After all player models have been activated by all players, Monsters are activated.

If there is more than one Monster to activate, randomise them with a die roll.

To determine Monster actions, follow the flowchart diagram overleaf.

Monsters make all tests at DR12, with no modifiers, unless specified. This includes if they are attacked or targeted by any spells.

This is also the same for all abilities, unless otherwise specified. Monsters do not prioritise Downed models unless otherwise stated. If a Monster can only see a Downed model they do nothing.

Monsters with only ranged attacks, if in melee combat, make unarmed attacks dealing D4 damage unless otherwise stated.

Monster Morale

If a Monster is Critically hit it makes a Morale test. Roll 2D6. If the result is greater than its Morale it flees, moving 2D6 inches per round until it leaves the field or is Dead.

If a Monster's Morale is '-' it ignores Morale rules.

Monsters and fumbles

If a Monster rolls a 1 they drop their Weapon (things like claws are not dropped). If a Monster has no Weapon it takes its action to pick up any dropped Weapons.

Monster Profiles

HP: Monster's Health.

When a Monster reaches 0HP it is Dead, unless stated otherwise.

Morale: the Monster's Morale value.

Attack: this is given as a type, e.g., Claws, Slam, or other, followed by the damage it deals on a succesful hit.

Armor: how much the Monster reduces damage by.

Special: any special attacks or features the Monster has.

Spawning Random Monsters

When spawning a random Monster, place them as instructed in the Scenario. Place them on the board edge indicated, and close to the centre of the board edge they spawn on.

Looting Monsters

Any Items carried by Monsters can be picked up as an action when within 1 inch of a Downed or Dead Monster.

Monsters vs Monsters

Monsters treat other Monsters not of the same type as them as hostile, and will fight them.

Keywords

Keywords are used to clarify what a Monster is and what Feats, Items, and Weapons affect them. Monsters with the same keywords will not fight each other.

START HERE

Check Monster's special rules.

Can the Monster see a model that is not the same type as it?

NO

Monster does nothing.

YES

Is Monster within 1 inch of a model it can see?

YES

NO

Does the Monster have a ranged attack?

YES

NO

Monster moves 2D6 inches towards nearest model that is not the same type as it.

Does the Monster end within 1 inch of a model that is not the same type as it?

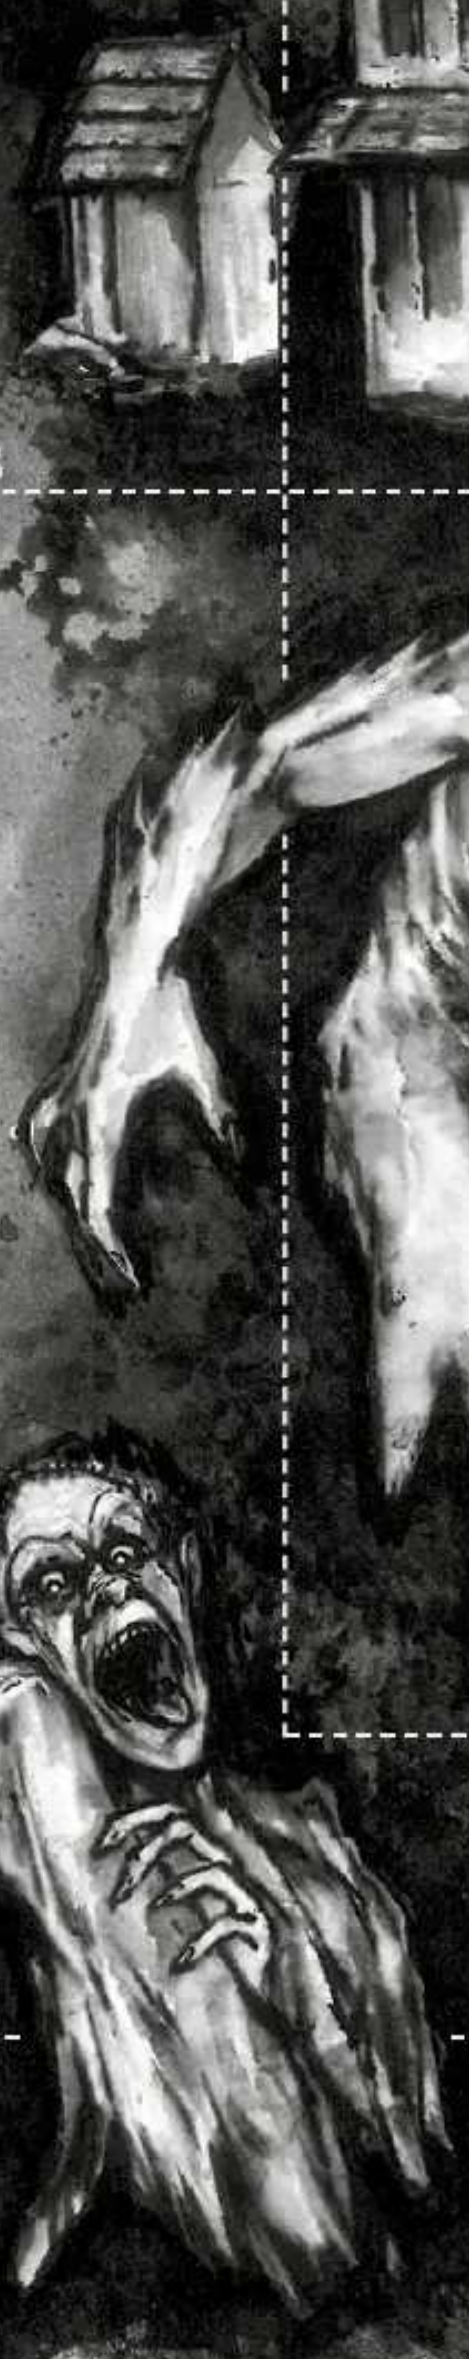

NO

Monster ends its activation.

YES

Monster immediately attacks as per the melee combat rules.

Randomise target if there is more than 1 model within 1 inch.
Monster ends its activation.

If its ranged attack has keyword
Reload, does it have Ammo?

NO

YES

Monster does not move and instead reloads (Monsters always have Ammo).

Monster moves D6 inches towards nearest model not the same type as it and stops before getting within 1 inch.

Is there a model within range of its attack that is not the same type as it?

NO

YES

Monster moves another D6 inches, putting terrain between it and the nearest model.
Monster ends its activation.

Monster makes ranged attack against nearest model that is a different type.
Monster ends its activation.

Monster with only ranged attacks, if in melee combat, makes an unarmed attack that deal D4 damage, unless profile states otherwise.

If a Monster can see more than a single model it always goes towards/targets
the closer model. On a tie, roll a die to determine which way it moves/who it targets.

ACID SLIMEBLOB

art by Ada

HP: 20

Morale: -

ACID: D6

Armor: 0

Special:

Acid body never rolls to attack and auto-hits all models within 1 inch, dealing D6 damage. Any melee Weapon that hits an Acid Slimeblob is destroyed!

Moves only 3 inches per activation.

Dawnbright was once the cleanest city the land had seen, thanks to its use of Acid Slimeblobs. Created from ancient magic, the creatures were employed in the city's sewers, melting all refuse the city generated.

Aderyn y corph (A.K.A. CORPSE BIRD)

Brought from far away lands, the Aderyn y corph were used to herald the death of the leaders of the city. These otherwise silent birds would chirp on the mornings that leaders would die. A practical thing: electing a new ruler takes time, so getting a head start on matters allowed more time to festoon the city. Left to fend for themselves when the city fell, the Aderyn y corph now scream the death of those too close to them.

HP: 4 Morale: 6 Claws: D4 Armor: 0

Special:

Death Call - If an Aderyn y corph is on the board when a model is Downed, that model is instead Dead.

HP: 21 Morale: 10
Bite: D10 Armor: 2

Special: Only moves D6 inches.

Can make two attacks.

The Afanc, part beaver, part crocodile, part dragon, and all nature's wrath, for those who pollute, despoil, and sully nature. It comes for their flesh and bones!

AFANC

ANIMAL CULTISTS

HP: 8   Morale: 9   Fangs: D6   Armor: 1

Special: Animal Cultists are never alone, always spawning in packs of D8+2.

Animal Cultists do not move towards enemies, instead moving towards another Animal Cultist. Animal Cultists will always try and leave combat to perform a ritual.

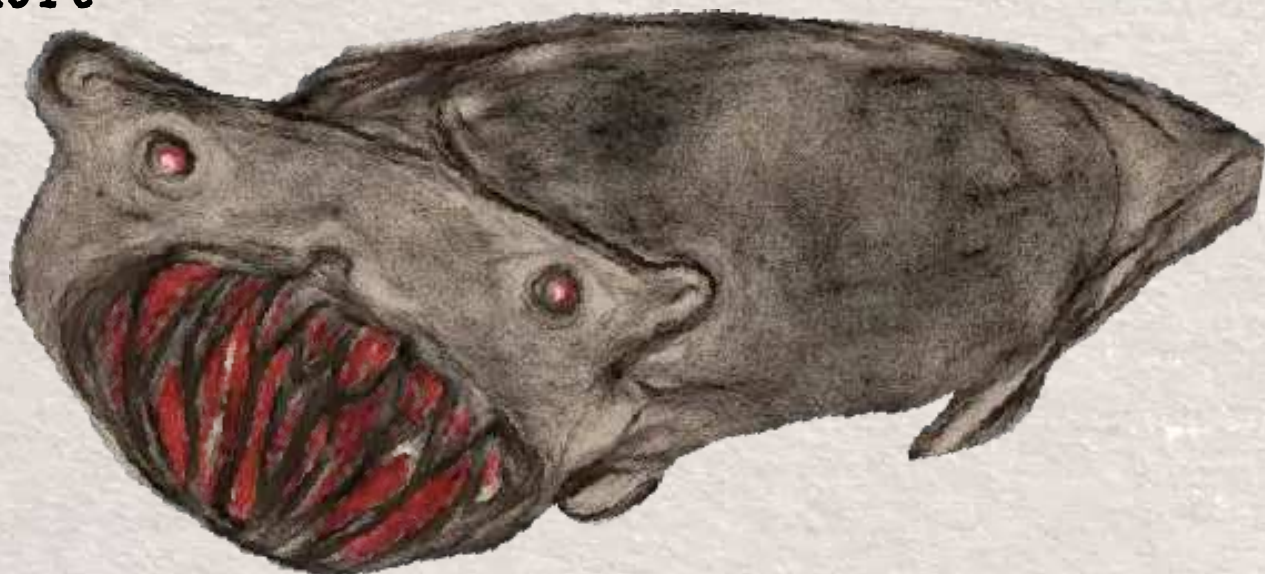

If more than two Animal Cultists are within 3 inches of each other after moving, they begin to perform a cult ritual, summoning another Monster at the end of the Monster activation phase if they remain within 3 inches.

The Monster they summon depends on the number of Animal Cultists not in combat.

- 2 Another Animal Cultist
- 3 Morka-Porka (pg. 70)
- 4-5 Disembowelled Ghoul (pg. 63)
- 6-9 Púca (pg. 72)
- 10+ The Basilisks: the world ends.

Morale = 1 + number of Animal cultists alive.

Saccharine animals are coming together to bring about the end of man. Their rituals are hard to understand for the uneducated, appearing like nothing more than a gathering of cute critters. But there is something far more sinister bristling in these woods.

THE BLIND SPIDER QUEEN

The Spiders of Dawnblight are a unique species; given enough food, they never stop growing, shedding monthly. So large do they grow that the city employed spider hunters to keep numbers down. When the city fell, the Spiders had plenty to feed on, and one more than any other grew to an enormous size. Rumours tell that she was blinded by a halfling long ago. Now she sits awaiting those brave enough to approach.

HP: 16 Morale: 9
Fangs: D6 Armor: 2

Special: The Queen senses vibrations and so does not move towards the nearest model. Instead, she moves towards the last model to act before the Monster activation phase. Additionally, if a model ever fails an Agility test, the Queen immediately moves towards them 2D6 inches.

Poisoned Bite: Models hit by the Queen's bite must pass a Toughness test or become Poisoned (pg 23). Models also lose their next activation.

Brood: If not in combat at the end of the Monster activation phase, she births one Spider Brood.

SPIDER BROOD

HP: 4 Morale: 6 Fangs: D4 Armor: 0

Poisoned Bite: Models hit by a bite must make a Toughness test or become Poisoned (pg. 23).

BLOOD RAGE Vampire

The hunger for most vampires was something they could sedate for a time with the feasting on the blood of the living. But for some the hunger never rested, no matter how much they drank. A hunger that bore at their souls and ate away their minds, leaving nothing but rage behind. When this happens what remains is a Blood Rage Vampire, a terrible beast

HP: 10 Morale: - Bite: D6 Armor: 2

Special: Heals an amount of HP equal to the damage it deals, to a maximum of 10 HP.

Downy: Moves to the nearest sight, nearest target.

Targets Downed by a Blood Rage Vampire arise as a Blood Rage Vampire in D2 rounds at the start of the Monster activation phase.

When the crypts of the city were full, the dead were piled in pits. Over time, birds and insects ate away their flesh, leaving nothing but bleached bones. Bone Horrors are made the remains of numerous skeletons. Multiple skeletal hands, held together by malicious forces, claw at the living.

They are hard to destroy and vary in size.

HP

Morale

Bone Claws

Armor 2

Special:

When you place a Bone Horror on the table roll a D6 below.

|                                                                           |                    |      |             |       |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------|------|-------------|-------|
| 1-2                                                                       | Small Bone Horror  | HP5  | Attack: D4  | 25mm  |
| 2-4                                                                       | Medium Bone Horror | HP8  | Attack: D6  | 32mm  |
| 5                                                                         | Large Bone Horror  | HP12 | Attack: D8  | 40mm  |
| 6                                                                         | Huge Bone Horror   | HP20 | Attack: D12 | 50mm+ |
| (only one Huge Bone Horror can be present at a time, reroll if necessary) |                    |      |             |       |

Bone Horrors

CAT H PALLUG

In ancient times cats were worshipped as gods;
they have not forgotten this.

- Sir TP

HP:—

MORALE 14

CLAWS:2D20

ARMOR:25

In a slow decline, it is hard to pinpoint the city's fall. Many mark it as the day the Cath Palug arrived. Born of a great white Sow, the feline beast grew to immense size. No man-made blade can slay it. Legends claim the Caledfwlch Sword is the only way to end this monstrous creature.

Special: Can only be killed by the Caledfwlch Sword, which ignores the Cath Palug's Armor. If dealt 15 damage by the Caledfwlch Sword, the Cath Palug is destroyed and never returns.

For reasons unknown, the Cath Palug ignores any model carrying a pink glove.

The Citizens of Dawnblight

No one really knows what the final straw for the city or its people was. Whatever happened, those who saw it tore their eyes from their skulls. These blinded fools remain in the city. Crazy beings driven by violence, they attack whoever gets too close with weapons fashioned from previous kills.

HP:8 Morale:7

Makeshift Weapon:D4 Armor:0

Special: Citizens only move towards models within 6 inches of them.

HP:20 MORALE:- SLAM:D& ARMOR:3

Special: When the Corpse Collector hits a target, it must make a DR12 Strength test. On failure the Collector picks the target up and places them onto a spike on its back, doing 2 damage. If they are still alive, they can make a Strength test to remove themselves from his back each round, taking 1 damage if they fail. If they drop to 0 HP they die and are added to the COLLECTION.

Dealing with the dead is deeply unpleasant business, so those people in charge, you know, the ones who think they have a good idea and do the good idea without thinking if it is in fact a good idea? Yes, those people created the Corpse Collectors. Problem is the Collectors don't seem to understand what makes a corpse a corpse, collecting both the living and dead in equal measure.

Named by a small child, Deadly Cornobols are the result of a wizards' competition to create a beast for use in the city's gladiatorial amphitheatre.

HP: 7   Morale: 4
Slam: D8   Armor: 2

Special: Flight, ignores all terrain during movement. 3D6 inches.

Spellcaster Bane: Cornobols move towards nearest model with Scrolls. If no model has Scrolls follow normal Monster rules.

Tasty Eggs: When a Cornobol is killed they drop tasty eggs worth 5 Gold each at the Hogs Head Inn.

DEADLY CORNOBOL

Deadly Cornobol by @Petlozki
Winner of Build a Horror Competition

Some creatures should not exist.
Humanity is one of them, and so is the

Disembowelled Ghoul

HP:8 Morale:9
Strangle:D6
Armor:2

Special: Strangles opponent with its intestines. Models cannot leave combat with a Disembowelled Ghoul.

YEARS BEFORE THE FALL OF THE CITY,
A GREAT PLAGUE
TORE THROUGH ITS
NARROW STREETS,

~~THOSE INFECTED~~ ~~WERE THEN KILLED~~ WERE THROWN INTO THE SEWAGE PITS.
THOSE FOETID
CORPSES EVENTUALLY ROSE AGAIN AS GHOWLS, STINKING OF
FILTH AND DISEASE.
FAECAL GHOWLS HAVE BEEN SEEN TO MAKE
CURIOUS POUNDS OUT
OF DECADES OLD
EXCREMENT.
WHY THEY DO THIS
NO ONE KNOWS, BUT THEY OFTEN BURY TREASURE AMONGST THE WASTE.

HP: 8   Morale: 9
Claws: D6
Armor: 1

FAECAL GHOULS

Special:

Infect: If a Faecal Ghoul lands a successful attack, the target must make a Toughness test.

On failure they become Diseased (pg. 22) with Filth Rot.

Filth Rot: Models Diseased with this gain a Flaw: Filth Rot Carrier. Whenever they attack another model they may pass this on as above. This is in addition to the effects of being Diseased.

Filth Rot can be cured between Scenarios.

HP: 5
Morale: 8
Horns: D6
Armor: 0

Special: Angry - The Goat's Horns do D8 damage while it has less than 5 HP.

Great Maw

A hunger manifested.
An appetite that cannot be sedated.

The Great Maw consumes all.

HP:10 Morale:9 Bite:D6 Armor:3

Special: When the Great Maw attacks it attempts to swallow a target. The target makes a DR12 Agility or Strength test. On failure they are swallowed into the Maw. The next time the target activates it must make a DR12 Presence test. On failure it is taken into the pocket dimension inside the Great Maw and lost forever.

If the Great Maw takes 5 or more damage before this happens, it spits out the target.

If the Great Maw takes damage and has not swallowed a target this encounter, roll a D10.

On a 1 it spits up a random Monster (pg. 80) that it swallowed earlier.
Ignores Darkness.

ICE GUARD

HP:10   Morale:9   Sword:D8   Armor:3

Special: Weak to Fire - Any flame attacks do max damage on hits.

(For example: Fire Hawk and Torches.)

THE LAUGHING MAN

Concept Shayne Smith
@shaydozer

Legends tell of a man appearing in Dawnblight after it fell into ruins. The city's decay infected him, twisting him into something inhuman. The presence of this Monster is heralded by a laughter on the wind, which grows in intensity until it is all you can hear.

HP: 15 Morale: - Rend: 2D8 Armor: 2

Specials

Panic: The never-ending laughter causes panic. Models within 12 inches of The Laughing Man when he activates must make a Presence test. On failure they are taken by the laughter. All they can do is stand and laugh themselves, no longer able to move or take actions. Laughing models can retake this Presence test the next time they activate.

Targeted: The Laughing Man moves up to 12 inches towards the nearest laughing model (model who has failed its Presence test) and makes an attack. If there are no laughing models, follow normal Monster rules. If a model is Downed by The Laughing Man, he rips them apart and they are instead DEAD outright.

Intensify: If the Laughing Man kills a model, the range of his Panic ability increases by 3 inches and all future Presence tests to avoid the ability suffer -3 to the roll. This stacks for each kill The Laughing Man makes.

Unkillable: When The Laughing Man takes 15 or more damage he is not killed. Instead he flees the battlefield, moving 12 inches per round.

No one has found a way to end the laughter.

HP:10 Morale:5 Gore:D8 Armor:1

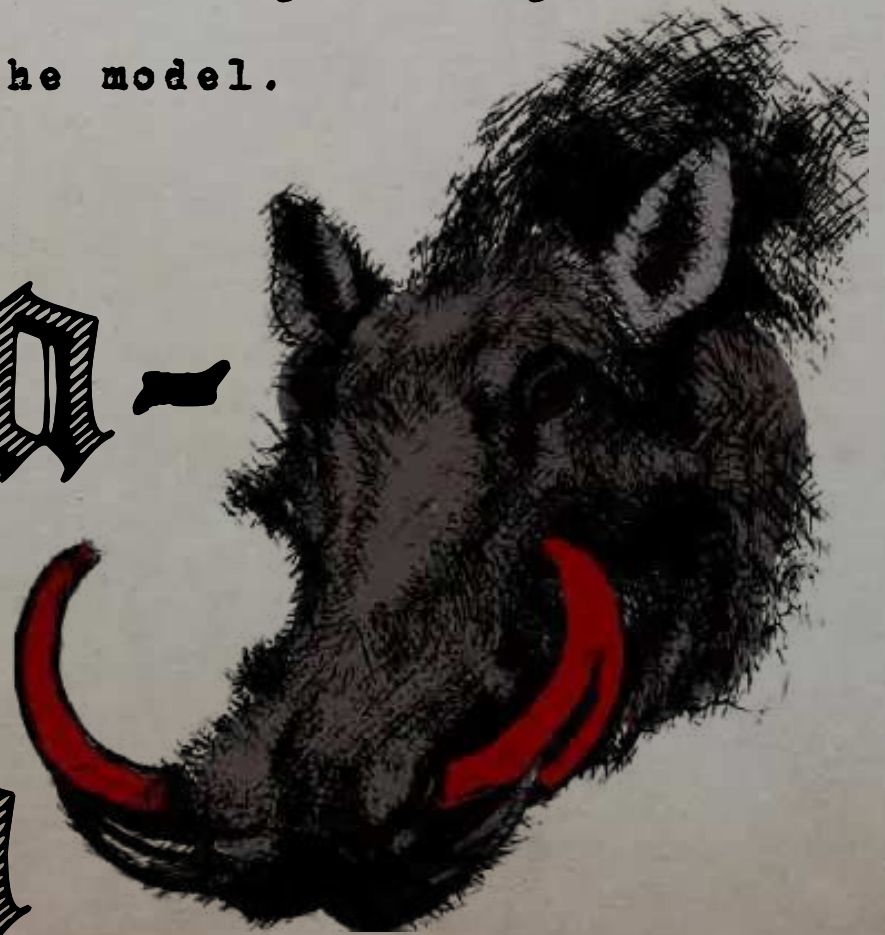

Large wild hogs that can be tamed.

Special: To tame one, a model must feed it their flesh and make a DR12 Presence test when within 1 inch. On success they gain the Lost Limb Injury (pg. 88), but now have a Morka-Porka as a mount. Movement is increased by 3 inches and model gains a gore attack (D8).

On failure it attacks the model.

Morka-

Porka

MUTANT CHICKEN OF KALKOROTH

HP:5 Morale:4 Lazer Eyes:D6 Armor:1

Special: Lazer Eyes:
Can attack up to 6 inches away.
Can also be used in melee.

HP:15 Morale:4 Fangs:D6 Armor:2

Awakened by dark sorcery and black magick, Nagl once haunted the cemetery of Graven-Tosk. In life a terrible coward, so he is in death. He lurks in the shadows for prey, patiently waiting until others kill before sneaking from the dark to suck on the slaughtered corpses.

Special:

Vampiric: Nagl heals D6 HP when he successfully causes any damage.

Coward: Nagl flees the fight if he drops below 5 HP. As a coward, Nagl prefers to attack models already in combat. Instead of moving 2D6 inches towards the nearest model, he instead moves any distance towards the nearest model which is in combat. After a successful attack Nagl moves 2 inches away.

Nagl, servant of the Shadow King

HP: 22 Morale: 9
Claws: D6 Armor: 2

Special: Whenever the Púca Downs a model, it immediately begins to feast on them for 2 rounds. If it finishes its feast, the victim rises as another Púca at the beginning of the next Monster activation phase.

The Púca always performs its feast action if possible, even if other models are within 1 inch.

Shapeshifter, trickster, feasting monstrosity, or all the above?

The motivations of these fey beasts are hard to ascertain.

Whatever they want, you should hope you never meet one.

PÚCA

RAT KING

HP:17 Morale:6

Bites:3D4 Armor:0

Special: Anyone bitten by the Rat King must make a Toughness test or become Diseased (pg. 22).

Summon Rat: If not in combat at the end of the Monster activation phase, Rat King summons D4 Plague Rats.

A Rat King is a collection of rats whose tails are intertwined and bound together. Normally such a fate means death for the rats as they struggle against each other, but in rare cases the rats become one Monster, one mind. In these situations they can command other rats to do their bidding.

PLAGUE RAT

HP:2 Morale:1 Bite:1 Armor:0

Special: Anyone bitten by a Rat must make a Toughness test or become Diseased.

Satanic Seitan

Not all was evil in Dawnblight. There were those who sought meat alternatives to end the plight of our four-legged friends. But, in Dawnblight no good intention can save you. That meat substitute gained life of its own.

HP:7 Morale:-

Slam:D8 Armor:2

Special: High in Sodium: when Satanic Seitan successfully makes a Slam attack the target must make a Toughness test. On failure they are exposed to high levels of salt and their skin withers and cracks. They are Bleeding (pg. 22).

Silent

THE MADNESS THAT TOOK DAWNBRIGHT SPARED FEW IN THE
CITY, AND ITS SCHOLARS WERE NO EXCEPTION. THOSE OF THEIR NUMBER WHO REMAINED BECAME

THE SILENT BEINGS WITH A HATRED
FOR ALL MAGIC, THEY MOVE
WITHOUT SOUND, ALWAYS HUNTING
SPELLCASTERS.

HP: 12

Morale: 10

Claws: 1D6

Armor: 1

Special: Mage Bane - the Silent do not move as normal. Instead, if not in combat, they teleport 12 inches towards the nearest model with a Scroll.

If any model fails when casting a spell, the Silent teleports to them and makes an attack. If no Spellcasters are present, they follow standard Monster rules.

SSSSSHHHHH

SIREN

HP: 8 Morale: 9 Fangs: D6 Armor: 1

Special: Aquatic - gains +2 to attack a target in water.

Brainlust - as an action, will kill a Downed model within 1 inch of it and suck out its brains. That model is considered Dead.

A song on the wind as sweet as honey.
The cold bleak sea comes to greet you.
The Siren embrace awaits.
Go forth and meet your end.

Skeleton

HP:6 Morale:- Sword:D6 Armor:1

Special: 1-in-4 Skeletons are also armed with bows. Roll a D4, and on a 1 the Skeleton has a Bow and 10 Arrows. Skeletons with bows follow Ranged Monster rules.

Ignores Darkness.

Dead Skeletons always contain a Makeshift Melee Weapon.

SOCK STEALING GOBLIN

HP:4 Morale:2 Claws:2 Armor:-

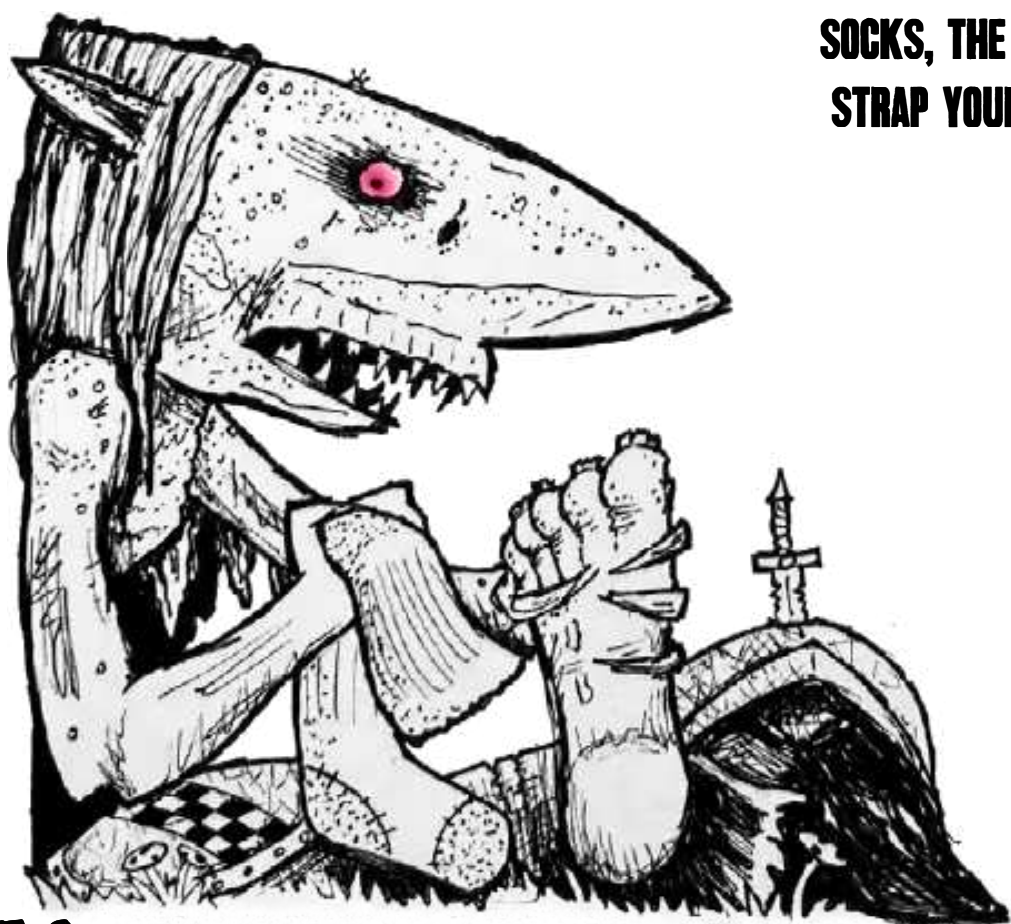

Special: If a Sock Stealing Goblin succeeds on an attack the target makes a DR12 Presence test. On failure they gain the Broken Bone Injury (pg. 88). This can only be gained once from a Goblin). Sock Goblins only steal odd socks. After a successful attack, they immediately move towards a new target.

SOCKS, THE GIFT THAT EVERYONE HATES BUT EVERYONE NEEDS.
SOCKS, WHERE MAGIC ACCUMULATES AS IT LEAKS FROM THE SWEATY FEET OF WIZARDS.***
SOCKS, THE FOOD OF THESE TRULY EVIL CREATURES.
STRAP YOUR BOOTS ON TIGHT, AND MAYBE YOU CAN AVOID THEIR GREEDY LITTLE HANDS.

*At least if you ask the Mad Wizard himself.

When you kill a Sock Stealing Goblin roll on the following table.

1. Blue Sock
2. Red Sock
3. Green Sock
4. No Sock
5. Pink Glove
6. Treasure

HP:3 Morale:- Bite:- Armor:1

The waters of Dawnblight are infested with Tapeworm Terrors.

Special: If a Tapeworm Terror successfully hits in combat, target must make a Toughness test. On failure the Tapeworm is removed from play as it infests the target. Infested models lose 3 HP permanently, but become immune to Poisoned (pg. 23) and Diseased (pg. 22).

Infestations can never be cured.

Tapeworm Terror

HP:10 Morale:2 Scythe:D8 Armor:1

Special: When an Editor Downs or comes within 1 inch of a Downed model, they begin to stuff their mouth with paper covered in mad ramblings, killing that model instantly. Models killed this way return as Disciples of the Editors at the beginning of the next Monster activation phase.

Disciples of the Editors

HP:6 Morale:- Fists:2 Armor:1

Special: Mindless: immune to Morale. ~~Hate bullet points.~~

Please use complete sentences

THE EDITORS